Washington, July 27 (AP)—Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) said today he uses "almost an ideal set of rules" to run his investigations, and he voiced "dismay" at the attitude of some of his Republican senatorial critics.

McCarthy's statements were in testimony prepared for a hearing before a Senate Rules Subcommittee studying a variety of proposals for revision of the rules for Senate investigations. No action is foreseen this year.

Missing Truck
Found in City

Alarm Out for Employee of Accord Colony by State Police

A pickup truck reported stolen from Accord Monday morning along with a cash box containing an estimated $4,000 in checks and cash was discovered abandoned on Pine Grove avenue in this city Monday afternoon.

The cash box was found on the front seat of the truck and approximately $2,000 in checks was recovered, Cpl. Jack Regan of the state police BCI reported. There was no cash in the box, however.

The truck and cash box was reported missing about 9 a. m. Monday from Chait's Bungalow Colony at Accord.

Alarm Out for Briggs
State police have sent out an alarm for a David Briggs, 20, said to be from Massachusetts, who had been employed as a handyman at the bungalow colony and who is wanted for questioning in connection with the disappearance of the truck and cashbox.

The truck was recovered after Harry J. Hines of 93 Pine Grove avenue notified the police that it was parked in front of his home. Local patrolmen were dispatched and stood guard over the truck until Cpl. Regan arrived from the Ellenville state police station.

Sterley to become effective on the September 1 date. In the middle of that month, he will start his free lance reporting.

With his 40 years of service, Styles is eligible for pension and has sent his application to the New York State Employees Retirement System, Albany, his notices of resignation indicated.

Anderson Thinks
Senator Ended
Chances for Conclusion

Washington, July 27 (AP)—Leaders of the embattled forces in the Senate struggle over atomic legislation each blamed the other today for prolonged deadlock.

Sen. Anderson (D-N.M.) a top strategist in the fight against the administration bill, said tactics used by Republican leader Knowland (Calif.) had blasted chances for an early end to the marathon battle.

"We'll be here to Thanksgiving now," Anderson told reporters.

Knowland, advised of Anderson's remarks, said they would be "almost humorous if times were not so serious." He suggested there was irony in "obstructionists" and those "active in a filibuster" seeking to "place the responsibility on the leadership."

The Senate passed the 25-hour mark of continuous session at 11 a. m. (EDT). At that hour, Sen. Morse (Ind.-Ore.) was still firing away with a speech that he had started last midnight.

It was Morse's third marathon talk since the atomic debate which began July 13, and he had already topped his two previous efforts.

Hit at Tactics
The Oregon Senator hit repeatedly at Knowland's tactics.

Morse said that tabling motions to throttle debate had introduced a new issue into the struggle and cried:

"If that's the way they want to play the game, rough and tough, we'll play it that way."

He said the all-night session wouldn't be the last one if GOP leaders "continue with those tactics." Of his own long speech, the Oregon senator said "there'll be another one and it won't be a short one either."

Morse's voice rose and he spoke with more vigor 10 hours after he started. Without mentioning Knowland by name, he said the Republican leadership had "picked a bad one" in using his pricing standards amendment to renew the strategy of voting to table without debate proposed changes in the legislation.

Morse's amendment was in "the language of Dwight Eisenhower" (Continued on Page 17, Col. 4)

Powell Resignation Gives
Feeling Dispute Resumes

Albany, July 27 (AP)—The unexplained resignation of a member of the State Power Authority stirred speculation today that a recently settled dispute within the authority had flared anew.

The departure from the authority of Hickman Powell, a free lance writer from New York city, was announced yesterday by Gov. Dewey's office.

Dewey immediately appointed William Wilson, a New York city architectural engineer, to the $10,000-a-year post. He will serve the unexpired portion of Powell's term, to May 6, 1958.

The governor gave no reason for the abrupt resignation of Powell, a close adviser of Dewey for a number of years. And in New York city, Powell

Friend of Missing West
German FBI Boss
Was Not Under Any Suspicion

Berlin, July 27 (AP)—An American counter-intelligence agent, known to be a friend of missing West German Security Chief Otto John, has committed suicide in his Berlin quarters, it was learned today.

The man, a naturalized American with the rank of captain in the CIC, was found mortally wounded by fellow officers in his billet near the American Army Hospital last Friday. He was pronounced dead on arrival at the clinic.

The Army has withheld announcement of his identity until the family is notified.

Rumors that the agent was being questioned and that he was suspected of disloyalty were flatly denied by U. S. authorities today. A senior officer said a complete inquiry shows the man to be above suspicion.

Officers said the agent had known Dr. John, former chief of the West German Federal Office for Protection of the Constitution for some time. The agent shot himself the day after John's disappearance in the Soviet sector was made public.

No Details Released

Officials declined to discuss details of the suicide, particularly the motive. They discouraged speculation on the extent of the man's link with Dr. John and insisted there was no doubt of the American's loyalty. He was reported to have been German-born, with most of his relatives living in Communist-controlled territory.

The 44-year-old John drove into East Berlin with a Communist friend last Tuesday night, the tenth anniversary of the July 20, 1944, putsch against Hitler, in which he participated. The federal government at Bonn insists that the security chief was lured into the East, perhaps drugged, but the Communist regime has contended John came voluntarily "to work for unity." Red radio Berlin broadcast John's voice in a brief statement which accused the West German government of reviving Nazism.

As the director of West Germany's counter-intelligence fight against the Communists, John had widespread contacts in both American and British intelligence networks.

Knowledge Indicated

Official quarters here have indicated John's knowledge probably will require revamping of the network on which the West (Continued on Page 18, Col. 6)

In 2-Auto Crash

Mrs. Mary K. Hankinson, of 80 Madison avenue, suffered a possible broken right knee and a cut of the chin in a two-car mishap near 222 Hurley avenue this morning.

Taken to Kingston Hospital by ambulance, she was admitted and her condition this afternoon was reported as "apparently fair."

Officer Ernest Bartroff reported at 8:45 a. m. that Mrs. Hankinson was driving the car of Stanley Hankinson, south on Hurley avenue and the other car, owned by Priscilla Puratch, of Danville, Pa., and driven by George Puratch, of 152 West 42nd street, New York, was headed north when they collided.

Both vehicles were damaged and were towed from the scene. Police were notified at 5:10 p. m. yesterday by the Rev. Edmond Perret, of Montreal, Can., that his sedan, headed north on Washington avenue, was struck by another car at Hurley avenue, and it failed to stop. The car had cut short in front of him while passing, he said.

Powell's resignation, effective today, came on the heels of reports that Robert Moses of New York city, chairman of the five-member authority, had threatened to resign as the result of an internal dispute.

The authority is in charge of the projected 300-million-dollar St. Lawrence river power project.

The dispute reportedly arose over Moses' efforts at a meeting July 12 to increase the salary of the authority's general counsel, Thomas Moore, from $20,000 to $22,000 a year. Other members opposed the proposal.

It was understood that Dewey, who appointed Moses as chairman to succeed John E. Burton (Continued on Page 18, Col. 2)

Mrs. Stanton Is Injured
When Car Goes Out of Control

William T. Stanton, 54, of 164 Fair street, died, apparently of a heart attack, and his wife, Ella, 63, was injured when the car he was driving went out of control down an embankment along Route 9W at Highland shortly after 3 p. m. Monday.

Coroner Francis J. McCordle said Stanton suffered a coronary attack as he was driving north on 9W and apparently was dead when the vehicle went over the bank. The official verdict, however, is being held up for further investigation.

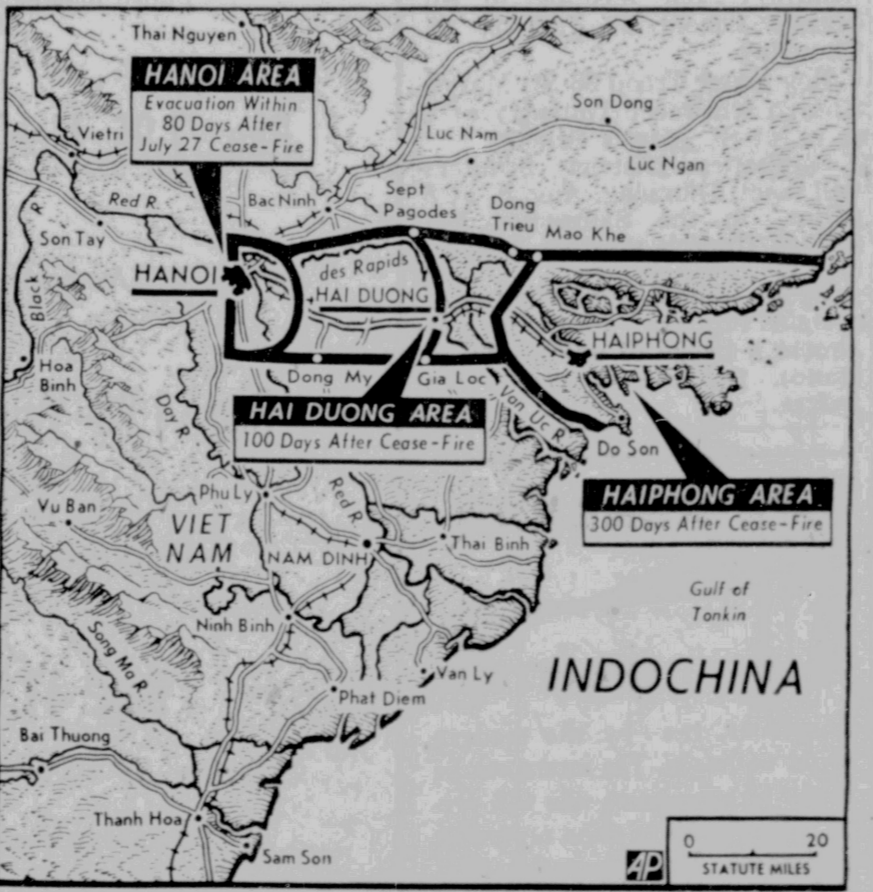

Mrs. Stanton was taken to St. Francis Hospital in Poughkeepsie for treatment of leg fractures and lacerations of the face. She was later transferred to the Benedictine Hospital in Kingston, where her condition was reported as "fair."

Evacuation Plan for North Viet Nam

Lines on map show areas drawn up for evacuation of up to one million civilians and fighting men from northern Viet Nam starting (July 28) one day after fighting is scheduled to stop. The movement will be eastward toward Haiphong area, from which the evacuation will be handled by planes and ships. The French civilian director general in the area, Jacques Compain, said he has been assured of 800 plane seats for civilian evacuees the first day, and by the second week in August he expects the program to be increased to 5,000 daily. Approximately 4,000 of these would be evacuated by ship from Haiphong to Saigon, 700 miles to the south. (AP Wirephoto Map).

President, Rhee
Begin Conference
On Korean Needs

Republic Chief Executive Expected to Renew Demands for Unification

Washington, July 27 (AP)—President Syngman Rhee of South Korea confers with President Eisenhower today at the formal opening of friendly but blunt talks on military and economic problems besetting partitioned Korea.

The conferences were to start in Eisenhower's White House study at 10 a. m. (EDT) and then switch to Secretary of State Dulles' office an hour and 15 minutes later.

Rhee was regarded as certain to renew his demand for steps to unify Korea.

The outspoken South Korean president had set a blunt tone in an impromptu statement on his arrival yesterday for intensive talks running through Friday.

He thanked the American people for their aid but said there would be no unification worries if the allies "only had a little more courage" in driving out the Communists.

'Had Cold Feet'

He said the Reds were not pushed across the Yalu river because "some people had a little cold feet."

Rhee arrived on the first anniversary of the Korean armistice. He didn't mention that agreement.

Eisenhower also gave an indication at his news conference last week of the frank nature the talks are expected to assume.

He said then he knew of no one in this country who was advocating resumption of Korean (Continued on Page 17, Col. 3)

Big Cleanup Job Is Ahead With Mines and Guerrillas

Hanoi, Indochina, July 27 (AP)—The French and the Vietminh ordered firing stopped in part of Indochina today—seven years, seven months and eight days after Moscow-trained Ho Chi Minh's rebel legions attacked Hanoi on Dec. 19, 1946.

The truce negotiated at the Geneva Conference became effective in North Viet Nam and its rich Red River delta at 8 a. m. (8 p. m. EST Monday).

The armistice is scheduled to spread gradually over the four other sectors of the war ravaged Southeast Asia land, becoming effective on Aug. 1 in Central Viet Nam, Aug. 6 in Laos, Aug. 7 in Cambodia and Aug. 11 in South Viet Nam.

Hanoi's big guns roared sporadically throughout the night before the cease-fire became effective as the Vietminh kept up their pressure on outlying posts manned by Vietnamese units.

In recent days the Reds have concentrated on such posts in an apparent effort to encourage desertions and prevent the native troops from moving south with the departing French.

No Large Scale Fights
There were no early reports, however, of any large scale fights in the last hours before the truce time.

There was no certainty, however, that the killing and wounding had stopped in North Viet Nam.

This was a cease-fire, not a signed peace.

Mines sowed along the roads and paths and in the rice fields may take their toll for months.

No one could be certain that all the thousands of Communist-led Vietminh guerrillas or all the irregulars loyal to the French-supported Viet Nam government had received the stop-fighting word or would obey it.

Registration, to date, in the city of multiple dwellings as required under provisions of the state's multiple residence law, has been slight, Fire Chief Joseph L. Murphy and S. Burrell Schwarzwald, the city's newly appointed superintendent of buildings, said today.

All owners of multiple dwellings who have not registered are asked to obtain registration applications at the new office of the superintendent of buildings in the municipal building, next to Central fire station on West O'Reilly street.

Farmers Face Financial Losses Due to Drouth

Albany, July 27 (AP)—The prospect of serious financial losses hung heavy over the state's drouth-weary farmers today as weather forecasters indicated there was no substantial relief in sight.

Although a few scattered areas of the state were faring well, most farmers reported they would need at least a three-inch rainfall soon to avoid heavy crop losses.

In the lower Hudson valley, where less than two inches of rain has fallen this month, and on Long Island, which has had less than an inch, corn, tomato, potato and cabbage crops have already withered.

Farmers in the central, northern and western sections of the state say only a heavy, general rain can save their produce from similar fate.

The threat of forest fires, the Conservation Department says, is not as serious as a year ago but "could be considered a little dangerous."

A department spokesman said that sporadic rainfall during June and July had helped generally. He added, however, that there had been "a few" fires on Long Island said one was burning now in the southern part of Orange county.

Rangers, he said, were keeping a close watch on the dry Catskill woodlands.

In Rockland county, Agriculture Agent William J. Clark reported that the fruit crop was holding its own. But, he continued, an average of half of early vegetables—mostly corn, (Continued on Page 18, Col. 2)

Two More Incidents
Reported in Area
Near Hong Kong;
Congress Is Angered

By The Associated Press
WASHINGTON—The United States was reported ready to send a strong protest to Communist China, demanding an immediate end to attacks on American and British planes.

HONG KONG—Three air line pilots reported encounters with fighter planes off Communist-held Hainan Island.

The pilot said his plane was buzzed by two U. S. jets; another said he was buzzed by four unidentified jets; a third reported he was "escorted" by four U. S. navy jets.

LONDON—Britain accused Red China today of violating "international custom and behavior" in hampering rescue operations after a British airliner was shot down in the South China Sea.

Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden told the House of Commons a new protest is being made to the Peiping government. Earlier, Prime Minister Churchill held a special meeting of his cabinet and military chief to discuss the incident.

Washington, July 27 (AP)—The United States was reported ready today to fire a strongly worded protest at Communist China, demanding an immediate halt to attacks on American and British planes.

A note already has been drafted, officials said, denouncing the action of Red Chinese fighters in shooting down first a British commercial airliner and later firing on American navy rescue mission planes.

The British craft went down with an apparent loss of 10 lives, including three Americans.

Any American note will be relayed through the British, who recognize the Chinese Communist government. This country does not.

Two more plane incidents in the same general area as the attacks were reported today in dispatches from Hong Kong. An air force plane reported it had been buzzed by four unidentified jets—definitely not American. And an air India international pilot said two U. S. jets buzzed his ship.

The weekend plane clashes, climaxed by the shooting down of two attacking Chinese fighters by U. S. planes, aroused angry protests in Congress and further embittered American feelings toward the Peiping regime.

Ferguson's Reaction
Sen. Ferguson (R-Mich.) said today the Communist world should read "a strengthened U. S. foreign policy" into the shooting down of the two Communist planes off the Red-held island of Hainan.

Ferguson, chairman of the Senate Republican Policy Committee, raised his voice in the general "well done" expressed on Capitol Hill for the U. S. airmen who shot the Red planes out of the sky.

Ferguson said it was wise policy to shoot down the Communist attackers, because failure to fight back "might have misled them into believing that Americans won't fight."

"Let this be a lesson to them, that Americans will defend themselves and their rights on the high seas," he added.

Ferguson said the Communists should have recognized "strengthened U. S. foreign policy" in recent months, particularly since President Eisenhower had sent aircraft carriers to "protect and help this mission of mercy." The U. S. planes were aiding in a search for possible survivors of the British plane.

Halloween Party By Youth Council

Saugerties, July 27—The Saugerties Youth Council has accepted the responsibility of sponsorship of a community-wide Halloween party. Preliminary plans were discussed and further details of the event will be outlined at the next meeting of the group to be held Thursday, August 26.

Chairman Peter Williams, who presided, reported that a drainage pipe had been put in at the skating rink site in order to drain off the large amounts of water deposited there for ice skating purposes. The Youth Council paid approximately $175 for materials needed to alleviate this condition. There were proposals at previous meetings to have the area black topped in order to create a mall for roller skating. The basin was to be formed in such a way that it could be flooded in the winter to allow for ice skating.

Council members present included Supervisor Peter Williams, Police Commissioner Eugene F. Thornton, Andrew P. Vozdick, the Rev. Theodore E. Hammer, the Rev. August Pfau, Jr., John Washburn, and Bertram W. Burns.

The group which gathered in the village board rooms did not hold an official meeting due to the small attendance. However, a discussion held on various problems will be brought to the next session on August 26.

West Camp Church

Fair Draws Crowds

Saugerties, July 26—The West Camp Church fair and dinner which was held Thursday evening was reported a huge success by a committee spokesman.

The three settings of the roast beef dinner totalled nearly 300. Occasional showers threatened most of the afternoon. However, the rain did not materialize and the amusement area functioned at full capacity. The most popular booth this year proved to be the new addition, the House of Glass. The Yankee Pitching Range which was using genuine N. Y. Yankee baseballs, the funny photo souvenir booth, and the fortune telling booth drew crowds all during the evening.

For the first time those attending were entertained with continuous music from a public address system loaned to the fair committee by Leggie and His Boys, well-known local square dance band. The system was also used for various special announcements.

A special preview of a first recording of The Lord's Prayer, sung in Aramaic by Robert Mitchell, was held in the church during the evening. Many on the grounds entered the sanctuary and listened to the recording, which was made possible by Herman Knaust who arranged for the making of the records.

The tiny tots were treated to a special innovation this year when the committee provided a pony cart which operated on the grounds as well as the usual pony rides. A special showing of comedy movies was also held to amuse the youngsters.

Sales of Bonds Hits 1954 Halfway Mark

Ulster county sales of Series and H United States Savings bonds reached $508,200 at the half-way mark for 1954, or an increase of $68,300 over sales for the first six months of last year, William F. Edelmuth, chairman of the Ulster County Savings Bonds Committee, reported today.

The H Bond, which has been on sale since June 1952, has the same interest rate and maturity time as the familiar E Bond, but pays interest by Treasury check twice a year.

New York state sales of E and H Bonds for the first half of this year totaled $258,098,000, as against $241,759,000 in sales for the first six months of 1953.

"This good sales record at the half-way mark," Mr. Edelmuth said, "reflects the growing number of Americans buying Savings Bonds regularly through payroll savings and through their banks, in addition to the rapid rise in popularity of the Treasury's new current income H Bond among investors."

Malaria Control Sought

New Delhi (P)—Nepal and the World Health Organization have signed agreements designed to bring wider health services and a tighter control of malaria to the Himalayan mountain kingdom. The disease is reported to

PEOPLE AND WEATHER

In Kampala, Uganda, the government has decided to stop broadcasting weather reports. Natives, aware that the reports were put out by the government, regarded the forecasts as government promises that the weather would be what it was predicted to be. When the forecasts were wrong the natives grumbled and concluded that they just couldn't believe anything the government said.

In our own country forecasters have a high degree of accuracy. Scientific instruments and techniques have taken most of the guess work out of predicting the weather. Yet the weather prophets are occasionally wrong and when they are they hear about it in no uncertain terms. The howl raised by the people who had planned a picnic on the strength of the forecast that it would be a fair day and then encountered rain is no less indignant than that raised by the natives of Uganda. People are people, whatever part of the world they live in.

Women are puckering through seventy-five million dollars worth of lipstick yearly in the United States, it is reported. And still we haven't heard the men complain.

Officials in Ireland advise people to marry younger. If they want to be fair they will have to grant equal time for replies from bachelors.

SEVEN COME BACK

It is good news to read of the release of seven Americans who were taken prisoner by the Communists in Czechoslovakia when they wandered unintentionally across the border. The seven men spent 12 days behind the Iron Curtain but seemed to be unharmed at the time of their release.

The Communists Czechs tried to accuse them of spying. The charge simply wouldn't hold up. State Department officials sent a sharp note to the Czech government demanding the release of the Americans and, in their own good time, the Reds let them go.

When the men were first captured the Reds offered to trade their freedom for the return of three Czech refugees who had fled to the West. We can be proud that our government refused to allow the return of these refugees to tyranny and possible death be a condition for the release of our servicemen.

The fact that these seven men were held prisoners, and that the Reds attempted to barter for their freedom throws light on the true nature of communism. No measure, no matter how unethical or inhumane, is too low for them to attempt.

We shouldn't complain when things don't always seem to go right. Just think of the lot of a baseball umpire. Besides wearing silly clothes, by summertime standards, he often is wrong when right and right when wrong—depending on who's at bat!

POLAR IMPORTANCE

Admiral Richard E. Byrd, arctic explorer and one of the world's foremost authorities on the frozen parts of the world, said in a recent interview in Cleveland, Ohio, that as the advances of science continue to make the world smaller the importance of the polar regions increases. Few living men are more qualified to venture an opinion on the subject.

Admiral Byrd pointed out that in the event of war the Arctic could prove to be a corridor through which an enemy might launch an attack. He also said that if the Panama Canal should be destroyed the importance of the Antarctic would be increased, adding that the destruction of the canal is a possibility in any war. He emphasized the role that defense of Greenland plays in assuring our security and spoke of experiments being conducted with the use of floating ice islands as defense stations. He said such stations have possibilities as listening posts in the arctic defense work.

From time to time there are reports which demonstrate Russia's interest in the polar regions. The desolate lands of ice

THE ATTACK ON STYLES BRIDGES

"The Reporter," a magazine owned and edited by Max Ascoli, who arrived in this country sometime in 1931 on a grant-in-aid from the Rockefeller Foundation, has published an astonishing article on Senator Styles Bridges. This issue of "The Reporter" boasts 40 pages of copy; the article on Senator Bridges consumes 14 pages which is a big slice of any publication.

Pernaps Bridges deserves 35 per cent of this issue of this magazine, but when it was discovered that for some reason the state of New Hampshire was blanketed with copies, one wonders what was the interest and who spent the money for the free distribution. True, Styles Bridges is a candidate this year for re-election to the United States Senate of which he is president pro tempore, a high office, fourth in succession for the presidency. As it is expected that the Republicans will renominate him and that his re-election is assured, one wonders why all this excitement, particularly as the article is altogether uncomplimentary.

Apparently, Styles Bridges's greatest crime, according to "The Reporter," is:

"A lonely Republican internationalist before the outbreak of the second World War, he has in the main voted silently for the major post-war foreign-policy programs while at the same time endorsing nearly every crippling amendment dreamed up by such Senators as Kem, Jenner, Dirksen, Welker—and by himself. He has regularly voiced deep discontent with some of America's Allies in Europe, but has pledged undying support to the exiled government of Chiang Kai-shek."

Who does not voice discontent with some of America's Allies in Europe? Methinks I have heard something of the sort recently from President Eisenhower, Vice President Nixon, Secretary of State Dulles, and Majority Leader Knowland. If it is a crime to ask why France has delayed ratifying the EDC treaty, if it is a crime to object to seating Red China in the United Nations, then our highest officials have committed the same crime that Styles Bridges has. One wonders, if it is wrong to support "the exiled government of Chiang Kai-shek," does "The Reporter" want of the United States to take to its bosom the Communist government of Mao Tse-tung? Do the editors of this publication expect an American, such as Styles Bridges is, to support Communists anywhere? If so, why should he when their armies intervened in the Korean War to murder our sons?

Styles Bridges has been a tower of strength to the Republicans in the Senate, particularly after the death of Robert A. Taft, for whose personality it is such that he has often been able to quiet down the quarrelling factions and personalities in the party. It is no secret that he has played this useful role. "The Reporter" article describes this in the following language:

"Probably the main reason for the obscure character that Bridges has retained during his many years in the Senate lies in the nature of the specialized political field in which he has achieved his greatest eminence. The reputation of a manipulator of political influence is not susceptible to standard publicity gimmicks. Such a man must pursue hidden paths, conduct his negotiations in inner rooms, speak in the halftones of suasion and threat."

From this introduction to Bridges's faulty thinking, the article proceeds in minute detail to discuss all of the favors that this Senator may or may not have done for constituents or citizens for whom he may have intervened. Some are important and interesting; some are trivial. I should like to devote what space remains to me to refer to Chapter VIII of the article, entitled "China Lobby, New Hampshire Div."

Of course, there is no China Lobby. Alfred Kohlberg, an American merchant and manufacturer who loves China, started this nonsense by denouncing himself "The China Lobby" and demanding that he be investigated which no one does because Kohlberg spends his own money fighting Communism. He is also president of the American-Jewish League against Communism, to which he contributes abundantly.

It so happens that Senator Bridges opposes Communism in China as anywhere else and therefore Kohlberg favors Bridges as he does everyone who opposes Communism.

"The Reporter" says:
"Over the years since the Second World War, Senator Bridges has developed with increasing fervor the theory of treason at home as an explanation for disaster in Asia."

That Body of Yours

By JAMES W. BARTON, M.D.

A COMMON CAUSE OF BACKACHE

Backache is a very common ailment and, unfortunately, there are very many causes for it. A diagnosis which physicians do not like to make and yet must often do so because it is so common is "fibrositis"—which is a form of rheumatism in which no joints are involved. The reason doctors do not like to make this diagnosis is because it is too vague; there are no tests by which it may be proved to be present. Yet fibrositis is a very common cause of backache, as well as pain in other parts of the body.

What are the symptoms of fibrositis? It is a disorder of the soft connective tissues of the body and is characterized by pain and tenderness which may be confined to a small region of the back or may be widespread. Sometimes the pain may spread along a nerve or along a muscle and its tendon. Tightness and stiffness of muscles is common. Its cause is unknown at present. Usually the symptoms are worse with changes in the weather, with injury and with emotional disturbances. In the back, the neck and the upper part of the back are most frequently affected. It may come on suddenly and result in a painful stiff neck or "lumbago" if it is in the lower part of the back—the lumbar region. The severe pain is aggravated by movement.

Stiffness is the major symptom and appears so often that it is a great help in making a definite diagnosis of fibrositis. It is usually most severe after a long period of inactivity or rest. Thus it is commonly worse on rising from bed in the mornings. As patients get on their feet and move around, "limbering up" as it is called, the stiffness becomes less. However, as they get tired later in the day and in the evenings, the discomfort returns or gets worse.

About the only thing out of the ordinary when the doctor examines the patient is tenderness over the painful, stiff connective tissues. All the laboratory work such as examination of the blood and urine is found to be normal as a rule. X-rays do not reveal any abnormality of the bones of the joints.

Fibrositis is very troublesome as long as it lasts but, fortunately, with the help of heat and gentle exercises, it usually passes away in about 10 days.

Edson's Washington News Notebook

By PETER EDSON

NEA Washington Correspondent

Washington—(NEA)—The great Federal Housing Administration scandals uncovered last April have now been shaken down far enough to see what's going to come of them.

To date, the heads of 10 FHA officials have rolled under what might be known as the three R treatment—resigned, retired and removed.

But no proof has been obtained of any collusion between a government housing official and a contractor or mortgage lender suspected of fraud.

So far, nobody in or out of government has gone to jail. Getting an indictment and pushing a fraud case through the courts is a lengthy business.

No refunds have been secured for tenants who were overcharged on their rentals nor have home owners who were overcharged for repair work financed under government insured loans.

The special investigation of FHA by William F. McKenna, deputy Housing and Home Finance Agency administrator, is about half completed. The plan is to wind it up by Sept. 15 or before, so that the government housing outfits can get on with their business under the new housing legislation to which Congress has all but given finishing touches.

The Senate Banking and Currency subcommittee investigation under Chairman Homer E. Capehart of Indiana has concentrated on some of the worst cases of windfall profits reaped by the builders to borrow under government insured loans far more than the building costs of their projects. The excess they divided as dividends.

Of the 7000 loans insured under this program, 214 have been reviewed by the McKenna investigation. This three per cent of the total includes the obviously worst offenders.

The windfall profit on these cases amounts to over $40 million. This is the juicy bulk of the scandals. There will be other cases, but not so big. The government was not defrauded out of this money. It was the tenants who had to pay $40 million more in rentals who got bilked.

On the so-called Title One home modernization and repair loans guaranteed by the government, 204 complaints have been received so far. This is infinitesimal in comparison with the million loans, valued at $1.5 billion, now outstanding.

Of the 204 complaints, 87 have been referred to the FBI for further checking. Eighty-one have been handled by FHA administrative action, such as blacklisting the lenders. And 36 cases have been closed because no action was warranted.

There have been 56 indictments returned, involving 113 persons, and there will unquestionably be some convictions as these cases go through the courts. This is only the beginning. There may be hundreds more. But nearly all are small cases, involving under $1,000 apiece.

The great fear that exposure of these scandals by the Eisenhower administration would give the entire housing business a black eye has failed to materialize.

Furthermore, the investigation thus far has not apparently shot to pieces the morale of government housing agency employees. The hope is now that with the mess partially cleaned up, attention can be concentrated on better administration.

The immediate problem here for Housing and Home Finance Administrator Albert M. Cole is to put into effect regulations which will prevent repetition of the abuses under the Title One home repair program.

Government guarantees on loans for barbecue pits, tennis courts, swimming pools and such frills have already been banned.

It is recognized that regulations could be issued, so strict that they would dry up the home modernization business. That isn't desired. But license to defraud home owners under the guise of giving liberal profits to money lenders and contractors is to be stopped.

The main intent here is first to make the contractor build to specifications. The responsibility for securing compliance on this will be left to the lending institutions and to private business in general. Detailed government inspection will be kept out of it.

The government's main responsibility will be limited to curbing the banks and home loan institutions which day after day make loose loans that in the end add up to defrauding the home owner.

Government housing agencies recognize that they have a responsibility to the home owner. But the present administration does not want to get into this so deeply that it has an army of inspectors okaying every contract the borrower makes, to be sure he gets his money's worth.

No Vote Expected

Washington, July 27.—Any lingering possibility that Congress would vote at the current session to take Hawaii and Alaska into the union as states was wiped out late yesterday. The House Rules Committee, by voice vote, decided against sending separate House and Senate bills to conference to iron out differences. The House had voted statehood for Hawaii, as the Eisenhower administration asked. The Senate voted to give statehood to both Hawaii and Alaska. The rules committee decision, taken after months of inaction, blocks efforts to reach a compromise.

Fish Are Tested

Fish in the Columbia river are tested periodically for possible radioactivity which might be derived from the Hanford Atomic operation.

As far back as the dangerous days of the war when the atom bomb was in the making, the Roosevelt administration permitted the AF of L building trades to straddle the roads into the reservation outside Knoxville and extort money from every American who went there to offer his services. The government even went so far as to stipulate in large advertisements for an urgent job that they had to join the AF of L Brotherhood of Electrical Workers. The initiation fees of the building trade locals varied across the country, but $300 was not unusual and at many "projects" victims were canned as soon as they finished their instalments and new suckers were taken in as laborers, carpenters and the like. And the best electrician in the world couldn't apply his skill if some gunman in New York said "no."

If Ike doesn't know how rotten the wartime record of the unions was, and he had some excuse when he entered the White House, because he spent some of the war years, though not all, in Europe, his advisers are grievously at fault. There are volumes of congressional testimony proving that both big Houses profited as greedily as the worst of the contractors and providers and neither the AF of L nor the CIO has ever thought it necessary even to deny the truth.

President Rhee's Return Is Different From Time He Lived in U.S., an Obscure Person

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, July 27.—Syngman Rhee, president of the Republic of Korea, has come back "home"—for in this country he spent 33 years of his exile after seven years in a Japanese prison.

He is a world figure today, but few of us knew him as we sat on the same platform to receive degrees at Princeton University in June 1910. He had studied there for a doctorate and had majored in international law and American history. Previously he had received a master of arts degree at George Washington University.

Curiously enough, while studying at Princeton, young Rhee became acquainted with Woodrow Wilson, then the head of the university, who often introduced him to friends as "the future redeemer of Korea's independence."

Few men in modern history have fought so long and so bravely for the independence of their native land. Associated as he was with the work of the Presbyterian Board of Foreign Missions in Korea, the youthful patriot strove constantly as a speaker and as a writer to interest the people of this and other countries in the future of Korea.

To hear Syngman Rhee, the gentle-mannered man of intellectual attainment and deep-seated belief in the doctrines of representative government, characterized as a "dictator" or as a man who brushes aside constitutionalism—as critics abroad have pictured him—is to accept the propaganda attempts to discredit him which have been made by the Communists and "left wing" in Europe and to some extent in this country.

Syngman Rhee has had some tough decisions to make in wartime, and he has had to deal severely with attempts to infiltrate his government by subversives, but his record as constitutional president—and particularly the reforms which has championed—bear out the faith and trust that Americans who have known him have placed in him.

Many times, in the dark days while the Japanese held an iron hand over Korea, Syngman Rhee sat at the home of a friend in nearby Virginia and chatted with this writer about his hopes for Korean independence. It has been a long and melancholy struggle for him, and now that he has returned here to address a joint session of Congress and to receive the plaudits of the American people for his brave stand in leading his countrymen against the Communist aggressor, it is indeed historic vindication of a man with a moral principle.

Syngman Rhee is nearly 80, but he has a strong and vigorous mind which has not forgotten the trials and tribulations of the Far Eastern history in which he has so long played a vital part. He fears the Japanese still but knows that sooner or later the Japanese and Koreans must work together against their common enemy—the Red Chinese and Soviets. He is deeply interested in reconstructing his country, which has suffered the awful ravages of many years of war. AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

New York, July 25.—At a convention of the New York Federation of Labor, George Meany, the president of the national outfit, took it on himself to admonish the President of the United States on foreign relations. What he said makes no difference here. It is the impudence of this bloated boss of a chartered plunderbund in presuming to give the President orders that should arouse the citizen. And the President's guilt in conniving with this gigantic and often lawless racket is even more offensive, for, sketchy though his knowledge is of our affairs, he does know at least that the AF of L is a holding company for a whole aggregation of extortioners, thugs and saboteurs. In fact, he has had poignant dealings in the zone of sabotage only lately at Oak Ridge and Paducah where from the beginning the record of unions, both AF of L and CIO, has been a spectacular disgrace.

As far back as the dangerous days of the war when the atom bomb was in the making, the Roosevelt administration permitted the AF of L building trades to straddle the roads into the reservation outside Knoxville and extort money from every American who went there to offer his services. The government even went so far as to stipulate in large advertisements for an urgent job that they had to join the AF of L Brotherhood of Electrical Workers. The key to American policy in the Far East is a recognition that things will not soon change in that area and that strong allies are indispensable. It is essential, therefore, that friendly relations between Japan and Korea be established and this may prove possible if a regional defense pact is some day developed in which Japan can play an important military part.

More than two-thirds of the population is in South Korea and, if the republic is strengthened, it may in due time exercise a big influence on the people of North Korea, who silently watch the Red Chinese take steps virtually to annex the northern territory. Since patriots runs deep among the Korean people, the Red Chinese government cannot be relieved of the burden of policing that area and keeping large bodies of troops there—a circumstance which some day will be of vast importance if the people of China rise up in a liberation movement. At that moment will come also the chance for North Koreans to regain their liberty, too.

Syngman Rhee comes here to work out a program of economic reconstruction on which the United States has promised to help. The emphasis of his mission is on peaceful effort—a change from the days when it was being predicted that Syngman Rhee would "go it alone." For he has learned to put his faith in the sincerity and wisdom of the American government and in the conviction that it will never let him or his country down.

Pressure Is Put On President on Tariff Increase

Washington, July 27 (AP)—Heavy pressure to protect a key industry in the production of delicate wartime instruments bore down on President Eisenhower today as he considered whether to order his first major tariff increase — on imported watch movements.

The President must act shortly on the tariff commission's recommendation for a 50 per cent increase in tariff rates to protect the highly skilled domestic watchmaking trade. His decision could come today.

Scores of other industries, interested in their own protection from lower-cost foreign imports, waited with interest. Lead and zinc producers, who also have a tariff increase bid pending on Eisenhower's desk, were especially watchful.

Foreigners Watch Matter
Foreign governments also had an eye on the White House. Their concern was whether the movement for free world trade — already jarred by Congress' inaction on Eisenhower's three-year plan of gradual tariff reduction — might receive another setback.

Although the U. S. watch industry is comparatively small, consumers have a stake, too. Importers estimated the tariff boost, if approved in full, would increase the cost of an imported watch by $3.50 to $5.

Since he took office Eisenhower has turned down tariff commission proposals for higher duties on briar pipes, shears and scissors and groundfish fillets. He approved in part a recommendation for increasing the duty on alskis cloverseed.

Built on Claims
But the pressure for higher tariffs on Swiss watch movements has been built mainly on claims the domestic watchmaking craft is essential to national defense. The industry was the major wartime producer of precision instruments and timing devices.

A Senate armed service subcommittee, after hearing military officials testify to the "unique" skills of the watch and clock trade, reported on Saturday that the industry must be kept "alive and vital."

Domestic companies have complained that rising imports from Switzerland, where watchmakers are paid less, are damaging the market for American watch-

Rebel Band Dispersed

San Jose, Costa Rica, July 27 (AP)—The Costa Rican Army announced last night it has dispersed a small rebel band near the Nicaraguan border after a battle in which five men were killed. The communiqué said Claudio Mora Molina, head of the band that had attacked plantations and robbed banks, fled. Eight soldiers captured by the rebels in a previous skirmish on Saturday were rescued, the army said. The government claimed the raiders were inspired by followers of ex-President Rafael Calderon Guardia, in exile in Mexico.

Excellent Bidding Makes Contract

By OSWALD JACOBY

Written for NEA Service

South was very well satisfied with his contract in today's hand. He had every reason to be satisfied, since he had bid it well and since the success of the contract was a near certainty.

West opened the king of diamonds and declarer won in the dummy with the ace. South next led a trump from dummy to his ace, winning with dismay when West failed to follow suit.

South struggled on for a while, but he was doomed to lose one trick in each suit. The defenders made no blunders, and South was therefore defeated.

"Who would have thought it?" muttered South. "Ten trumps in the combined hands, and my only play for the contract is to take a first round finesse." South thought that it was very unreasonable to finesse the jack of spades at the second trick, but this strange play was actually marked as the only correct course.

Once East followed suit with a low spade at the second trick, South could not lose the hand if he finessed the jack of spades.

Adlai Is Not Interested, Son Says of Presidency

Anchorage, Alaska, July 27

(AP)—John Fell Stevenson, the son of Adlai Stevenson, says his father "doesn't want to be President."

Young Stevenson, here with his father on an Alaskan vacation, yesterday was asked what his father would do if he becomes President.

"He doesn't want to be President," the son of the Democrats' unsuccessful presidential candidate in 1952 told the questioning reporter. And then he added quickly:

"He isn't campaigning. He is just helping the party pay off the deficit from the last campaign."

The Stevenson party left here yesterday on a four-day fishing trip to the Katmai National Monument, 300 miles southwest of here. They will return to Anchorage Friday and depart for the United States the same day.

Texas Returns To Be Canvassed

Dallas, Tex., July 27 (AP)—County Democratic executive committees met today to canvass the primary election returns that indicate runoff elections for governor and other Texas offices.

The runoff will come Aug. 28 after the state Democratic executive committee, in turn makes a canvass Aug. 9 of all the primary returns, district and state.

Meanwhile, Gov. Allan Shivers led Atty. Ralph Yarborough, 650,919 votes to 632,040 in latest returns announced last night by the unofficial Texas election bureau. Two lesser candidates—Arion B. "Cyclone" Davis of Dallas with 16,062 votes and J. J. Holmes of Austin with 19,538—combined to force the runoff.

Candidates must have a clear majority—50 per cent plus one—to win office without a runoff election.

The campaign for governor, now narrowed to Yarborough and Shivers, promised to be a bare-knuckled, dog-eat-dog fight.

Transport Tanker Travels 550 MPH

Seattle, July 27 (AP)—Speeds of 550 miles per hour, four-fifths the speed of sound, have been attained by America's first jet transport-tanker, the Boeing Airplane Company announced yesterday.

The company said testing of the big, four-jet plane, the 707, is progressing "extremely well" and ahead of schedule.

The 707, to be called the jet stratoslayer when used as a commercial transport plane, is designed to carry from 80 to 130 passengers.

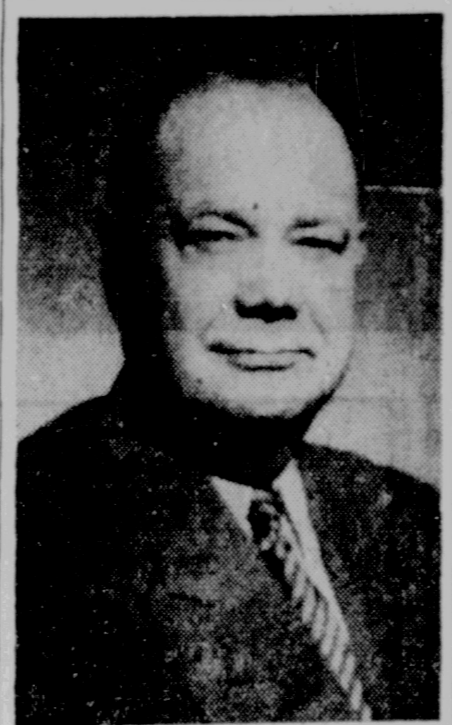

As a military plane, it will be capable of aerial refueling of the air force's fastest jet bombers enroute to targets.

The huge 15-million dollar jet was flown for the first time July 15.

Kingston Rotary Club to Welcome District Governor

George W. Bagley

The Rotary Club of Kingston tomorrow will be host to George W. Bagley, governor of the 256th District of Rotary International, who is making his annual official visit to each of the 27 Rotary Clubs in the Hudson Valley region of Eastern New York. He will confer with President James G. Connelly, Secretary Harry Edson, and committee chairman on matters of Rotary administration and service, and will address the club. Plans for local participation in the world-wide observance of Rotary's Golden Anniversary, February 23—June 2, 1955 will be discussed.

Mr. Bagley is secretary-manager of the Co-operative Fire Insurance Co. of Catskill, and a member of the Rotary Club of that community. He has been active in many community service projects in New York state and elsewhere. He was elected district governor of Rotary International for the 1954-55 fiscal year at the annual Rotary Convention in Seattle, Wash., in June, and is one of 220 district governors supervising the activities of some 8,300 Rotary Clubs which have a membership of 389,000 business and professional executives in 89 countries and geographical regions throughout the world.

Wherever Rotary Clubs are located, President Connelly asserted in discussing the governor's visit, their activities are similar to those of the Rotary Club of Kingston because they are based on the same general objectives — developing better understanding and fellowship among business and professional men, promoting community-betterment undertakings, raising the standards of business and professions, and fostering the advancement of good will, understanding and peace among all peoples of the world.

During this past fiscal year, 448 Rotary Clubs were organized in 51 countries of the world.

Huge Brush Fire Is in Second Week

Austin, Tex., July 27 (AP)—A gigantic brush fire, roaring through 5,000 to 6,000 acres of pine and post oak southeast of here, burned into its second week today.

But a fire that cut a 2,000-acre swath out of cedar brake and brush country 20 miles northwest of the state capital was believed "generally under control" after destroying three homes in the Lake Travis area last night. The roaring fires, visible for miles last night, added smoke and eye-smarting cinders and ashes to drouth-harried central Texans' miseries.

If this card held the trick, South would lose at most one heart, one diamond and one club. As the cards actually lay, the finesse would have succeeded, and South would have made his contract.

Even if the trump finesse happened to lose, however, South would still be sure of the contract. South could then draw one more round of trumps to exhaust that suit. This would leave one trump in dummy with which South could later enter the dummy. Hence South could force out the ace of hearts and get back to dummy with a trump in order to discard his losing club on dummy's high heart.

Successes Told In Some Cancers

Sao Paulo, Brazil, July 27 (AP) — Two highly encouraging new successes in the treatment of some kinds of human cancer were reported today at the sixth International Cancer Congress.

One is a surgery-plus-X-ray treatment of cancer of the breast, the most common form of the disease among women. The technique is saving about half the patients who get treatment reasonably early, the congress was told.

The second is a new drug given at least temporarily — normal life to a number of sufferers from several forms of cancer. The surgery-plus-X-ray method was described by Dr. Robert McWhirter, radiologist and surgeon of the royal infirmary at Edinburgh, Scotland.

This method, used since 1941, surgically removed only the infected breast but avoids cutting out a part of the chest wall, arm, and neck to remove lymph nodes to which the cancer probably already has spread.

Treated by X-rays

Those affected areas are treated by X-rays daily for three weeks, beginning 10 days after surgery. This method thus avoids severe mutilation of the body and some complications from surgery or X-rays.

McWhirter said 60 per cent of the women treated by the conservative combined method had survived for at least five years. A five-year survival is usually regarded as evidence of a cancer cure. He said 48 per cent had survived 10 years. All were women whose breast cancers were regarded at the time as suitable for operation.

Encouraging success through use of the new drug thioTEPA was described by Dr. Jeanne Bateman of George Washington University, Washington, D. C.

Good Results Reported

She said a high percentage of patients with cancers of the ovaries, breasts and the worst form of brain cancer had achieved good results, enabling them to return to months of useful, active life so far. The drug often produces temporarily good results in other forms of cancer, she added.

Describing results with the first 94 patients tested, Dr. Bateman said the drug works best if injected directly into the cancer. The drug even then manages to go to work on cancers in distant parts of the body begun by cells wandering from the original site. The drug is not a cure, Dr. Bateman cautioned. But it has succeeded in keeping some patients on their feet and useful until nearly the end of their lives rather than spending costly, painful months in a hospital.

Collection Reflects Older River Days

William O. Benson, of Sleightsburg, has a virtual museum of Hudson river steamboating in his home, including souvenirs from many old river craft, and his own models and paintings. Here, with his son William, he shows models of the Mary Powell and William F. Roamer. Other views are of a model of a steamboat engine believed to be at least a century old, and a painting of the James W. Baldwin, which hung in the boat's salon. (Freeman photos)

Benson Collection Highlights Golden Era Along Hudson

By CHARLES R. DOUGLAS

A collector for about 30 years of souvenir and bric-a-brac from the golden era of Hudson river boating, William O. Benson, of Sleightsburg, pilot of a tug for the Callanan Road Improvement Co., now has enough in his home to start a museum.

A boatman's interest in boating and Hudson river lore is best reflected through the fact that Benson, when not sailing the river himself, spends his spare hours in making boat models and painting scenes of the river and its boats as well as scouting new items for his collection.

It would take several spacious walls to do justice to the pictorial highlights of the collection and a room could be devoted to his own models and paintings. He has made models of the old Mary Powell, Queen of the Hudson, the Homer Ramsdell, of the Central Hudson Line, and the William F. Roamer.

Old Sloop Included

Among models collected is one of a Hudson river sloop believed to be 150 years old, a model of an old river line engine, believed to be over a century old, of the Norwich, old steamboat in 1836, and of the old Rondout creek ferryboat, Riverside, which had been known to older area generations as the Skillypot.

Knowing something of the ways, good, ornery and indifferent, of tugboats, Benson could not resist presenting his idea of one, and he has a model indicating the way in which he thinks they should be built. The chubby craft, built full scale, it appears, would be a sturdy and probably efficient one.

Has Bard Paintings

Among his collection of large paintings is one by artist J. Bard, which hung in the salon of the Jacob H. Tremper, since its first sailing in 1885. It plied the river between Troy and Newburgh. Another is of the James W. Baldwin, others of the Drew and Adirondack of the old Albany-New York night line, and a picture of a tow during the old D & H Canal days taken in the area of Esopus light in the 1880's. The tugs were the Adams, Oscola and Havilan.

In his variety of items from the old craft are a brass lantern from the Mary Powell, several lanterns from other boats, a metal box from the historic Clermont, pilot wheels, an eagle of the type which ornamented the pilot houses, lights from the old Kingston-Rhinebeck ferry Transport, ship clocks and signs from the Berkshire and Saratoga.

On Wooden Panels

Arranged on wooden panels he has a variety of small souvenirs including a spike from the Mary Powell, stateroom and other keys from various river boats, small signs and badges and other items. Another similar panel displays tickets from all points along the Hudson representing the fares on many of the older river boats.

Other replicas and pictures show such craft as the Minnie Cornell, built in 1879. It sailed between New York and Kingston, N. Y. He shows also the America, a sidewheel towboat which sailed between Troy and New York, and the B. B. O'Dell, which was still sailing the Hudson in the late 1920's.

Powell Is Largest

Largest of his models of river boats is that of the Mary Powell which is 42 inches long. Two others are more than three feet long, Benson said it takes at least two months to complete a model. They are finished in scale to each minute detail.

In the yard of the Benson home are flagpoles from the George W. Washburn and the Romer. Among items not pertaining to his river boat collection is one of historic interest. It is a Civil War memorial list, bearing the names of members of the 156th Regiment, New York Volunteer Infantry from Kingston. It shows the men mustered in Nov. 17, 1862 at Park Barracks, N. Y., and includes their record of service.

'Who Says?' He Says

Oakland, Calif., July 27 (AP) — The bus sign said "No Smoking." But Russell A. Laplace, 26, smoked. When the man behind pointed to the sign, Russell replied, "who says?" The man was Police Inspector William G. Martin and he showed his badge. "Anyone can have a tin badge," Russell said. In back of Martin was Police Inspector J. C. R. McDonald who also showed his badge. Then all three got off and went to southern station where Russell posted $25 bail for smoking on a public conveyance and snuffed out his cigarette.

Rhinebeck Plans Week Celebration

A full week of events has been scheduled in the village of Rhinebeck in celebration of Levi P. Morton Week, August 15 to 21.

Morton was a member of Congress in 1879 and minister to France in 1881 during which time he accepted the Statue of Liberty on behalf of the United States from the people of France. He was vice president in 1888 under President Benjamin Harrison and was governor of New York state in 1894.

The celebration, as outlined by DeWitt S. Gurnell, includes the following highlights for each day of the week:

Richard Montgomery will be dedicated. At 4 p. m. service will be held at the Church of the Messiah, with the Rev. Edward Van Etten, former Bishop of Boston Episcopal Diocese, as speaker. Representatives of 30 nations, including members of the French United Nations delegation, have been invited to attend.

Three Dies in Falls

New York, July 27 (AP) — Three men died in falls from scaffolds in the city yesterday. Two painters, Henry Klein, 59, and Abe Rodin, 61, both of South Ozone Park, Queens, were killed when a rope securing one end of their scaffold gave way and they plunged three floors to a pavement outside a Roman Catholic school in Queens. The men, employed by a contractor, were painting the exterior of the nearly completed St. Theresa Avila School in South Ozone Park. Carl Covington, 29, laborer, of Brooklyn, was killed when he lost his balance and fell from an eighth-floor scaffold at the Cypress Hills housing project in Brooklyn.

Kagoshima, Japan, July 27 (AP) — Eleven persons died and three were injured, Kyodo News Service said, when a violent rainstorm flooded homes and rice paddies and touched off earthslides last night at Kyushu, southern Japanese island.

THE MARQUEE

T.V. — STAGE — RADIO — RECORDS — PEOPLE

By DICK KLEINER

"On the Waterfront," the new Columbia picture starring Marlon Brando, is like old home week for TV viewers. The gripping film about longshoremen was made across the river from New York in Hoboken, N. J., and the cast was recruited almost entirely from veteran television actors — you'll see people like Eva Marie Saint, Rod Steiger, James Westerfield, Martin Balsam and others you've seen dozens of times. They look just as good on the big screen as they do at home.

There are many in the field of legitimate theatre who sneer at television. Bosh, they say. Or, on occasion, pooh. Not so Tony Randall.

Tony is currently in the Broadway comedy hit, "Oh, Men! Oh, Women!" He took over the part Gig Young created. And he says (a) he would never have gotten the part if it hadn't been for television and (b) his television appearances have drawn hundreds into the theatre.

Let's take (a) first, being of a logical bent. You probably know Tony Randall by his other, or TV, name—Harvey Weskit. Wes is Mr. Peepers' pal on the Wally Cox TV show. Before he got involved with Peepers, Randall was the romantic type. He usually played the young hero, the lover boy.

"I'd always liked comedy," Tony says, "but never had a chance at it. Along came Mr. Peepers, and that was my chance."

He made the most of it. He turned Henry Weskit into a very funny character, and suddenly bloomed as a comedy star. That led to other TV appearances — one a memorable lead opposite Judy Holliday — and then came "Oh Men, Oh Women!" Randall is certain he'd never have been considered for that comedy if he hadn't gotten a comedy reputation with Cox.

As for (b), Randall says people have dropped in backstage and told him, to his ex-romantic face, that they've never before seen a stage play. And the only reason they came was to see him. And he gets a big hand when he makes his first appearance.

"I can hear the whispers," Randall says. "They say, 'Oh, that's that man on Mr. Peepers.'"

The show, a take-off on things psychiatric, is one of the few that should last through the summer. In fact, Randall is signed until next June. That means that come September, he'll be doing both Mr. Peepers and "Oh Men, Oh Women!" It's a tough schedule and he's not exactly looking forward to it.

But that's what you get for being successful.

TV stars are taking themselves very seriously these days. Ann Sothern, who plays a private secretary on her NBC-TV show, will be a guest at the National Secretaries' Association convention. And David Brian, who is "Mr. District Attorney," has been tapped to deliver the keynote address at the National Association of County and Prosecuting Attorneys convention in Cincinnati.

The other day mention was made in this column about the 1924 Kingston High School Maroon and how on the day the books came out we would go to each other for signatures, sometimes never to meet again. I see in the July 15, 1954 Freeman that the Associated Press mentions our Rondout-born Brig. Gen. Edwin J. Messinger as the new commandant of cadets at the U. S. Military Academy at West Point. There is a smiling picture of youthful Gen. Messinger with the front page article. I turned back my 1924 KHS Maroon and there compared Ed Messinger the Prime Minister of my class. He changed very little in looks although some quarter of a century passed, he seems the same pleasant personality I remember in high school. He signed his picture in my book simply "Ed Messinger," with a careful, unhurried signature. He is right across the page from Henry Millonig another Kingstonian who made good.

Perhaps even the one who wrote the poem on now Gen. Messinger is also famous although the poem is unsigned. I quote from the Maroon: "We respect him in the morning, We admire him at night; We like him, yes, we like him. For Ed is sure all right. We adore him in the springtime, We elected him in the fall; But on May Day, in his black robes, We loved him best of all." Wherever one went on Thursday when Gen. Messinger's picture appeared in The Freeman spoke of remembering him as a fellow-student, or as a neighbor in Rondout, or being on a football or basketball team with him. That's the nice part of living in a small city for a long time when someone really makes the grade it's like one happy family.

During the recent anniversary held in Kingston it seems it was not known that a monument had been built to Thomas Chambers where his body was buried in Montrose Cemetery. I ran across it in the coverage of the Hudson-Fulton celebration in The Freeman of 1909. Another column lists all the dates, inscription and details as given on this stone, and how the money was raised for it at the time. Al Kurdt, executive secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, and an interested party in the recent anniversary, did not know about the Chambers Monument at the cemetery. Those who wish to see the stone, it is right at the entrance on the right side, by the Maple road sign. The stone is large but the inscription being on the top, neither I, who have gone to this cemetery many times as we have a family plot there nor, it seems, members of the recent committee ever noticed it. I did not 'discover it' as Mr. Kurdt said, it was there all the time. Chambers was first buried on Mill street which property in time belonged to Mrs. Gordon Reel's family, whose father incorporated the original head-stone into the foundation of the handsome house. The old original head-stone can still be seen there with the dates.

When Chambers' body was moved to the cemetery $1,000 was spent on the larger stone and inscription cut out on top. There was some mystery as to why "Sir" was first placed before Chambers' name and in time it seems it was corrected for I only saw the stone the other day and can see where the entire line was cut out and just "Thomas Chambers" written in. Mr. Coykendall at the time arranged to have enough ground around it so no one could put monuments close by it. Also the plot is supposed to receive perpetual care. If permissible it would be wise to have a marker in front of the stone so that those coming into the cemetery could read it, for this generation and for generations to come.

New Paltz, July 27—Mrs. Harriet Allen Kerr of New Paltz, was unanimously endorsed as the regular candidate for the position of Democratic state committeewoman for Ulster county at the Democratic county convention held in Kingston, Wednesday, July 21.

In nominating Mrs. Kerr, John E. Glancy of New Paltz, pointed out that she had learned about political organization from a master organizer and strategist, Miss Mary W. Numerous complaints about these junkers on the highways have been made by local citizens to Mayor Stang, Ulster County Association of Insurance Agents, other agencies and to local business men. All the junkers to be burned will be cars turned in for new cars. The location and date of the burning will be announced at a later date and will be under the supervision of Fire Chief William Norton and Ulster Hose Company No. 5. A. C. When Miss Dawson was appointed to the Social Security Board by President Roosevelt, Mrs. Kerr went with her to Washington as her secretary and continued with the board after Miss Dawson's resignation. During the 1940 presidential campaign she was called back to the Women's Division of the National Committee.

Since coming to New Paltz, Mrs. Kerr has been active in the League of Women Voters and last year was president of the Campus School Parent-Faculty Organization. She headed the group who organized the Democratic Day of Political Education held in May for the Democratic women of Ulster county. Mrs. Kerr is now vice-chairman of the Democratic Club of New Paltz.

Bid Wins in Walk

Flint, Mich. (AP)—Flint asked for bids on a new sidewalk. Blackford Brothers bid $2,586.12. But the city's own crews had the lowest bid of $2,213.16. The Blackfords misunderstood, thought they had the job, and built the sidewalk. The City Commission, seeing it was a good sidewalk, paid the Blackford Brothers—the figure the city bid.

White Lake, July 26 (AP)—James Miles, 16, of (23 Poplar street) Valley Stream, drowned yesterday while racing his motor boat on White Lake. TIC CORPORATION

Off on an Hour's Vacation!

To be honest with you, we're not certain where he's going. He may be journeying to a branch office of his corporation... or he may be heading home for the day... or he may just be taking his afternoon "constitutional" behind the wheel.

But one thing we know for certain. He's about to embark on a little vacation. And for its length, it will be one of the most wonderful interludes a man could enjoy.

For he's about to spend an hour in his 1954 Cadillac—and here, beyond any question, is the perfect remedy for a trying day.

It will bring him physical relaxation—for his Cadillac is so comfortable and luxurious that merely to sit in the driver's seat is to rest. And the car handles and steers with such complete effortlessness that every mile is a tonic for the body.

It will bring him mental refreshment—for the car is such a joy to drive and such an inspiration to ride in that a man seems almost automatically to leave his cares at the curbside.

And it will bring him renewed enthusiasm and interest—for every moment a man spends with his Cadillac serves as a stimulating reminder of his past accomplishments—and acts as a wonderful inspiration for planning and thinking out the future.

All this is the very essence of Cadillac value. All cars offer transportation—and varying degrees of satisfaction. But it remains for Cadillac to provide a therapeutic for the mind and body of a work-weary man.

In this glorious respect, there are simply two types of automobiles: Cadillacs and all the others.

Come in sometime—when life has grown stale with the toil of the day—and take an hour's vacation in a 1954 Cadillac.

We know it will be the most refreshing sixty minutes you ever spent on the highway—and we'll be delighted to provide the car at any time!

Carves Horses for Library Fair

Horse Auction At Library Fair

Woodstock, July 27 — Although the 27th annual Woodstock Library Fair, to be held Thursday, July 29, from noon to 5 p. m., will not have its own merry-go-round as had been originally planned this year, it will have instead a unique and colorful horse auction. On the block, ready to go to the highest bidders, will be five magnificently painted wooden merry-go-round steeds, carved especially for the Woodstock Library Fair by an expert in the craft—William Spanhake. The horses have been painted by the following famous Woodstock artists: Edward Chavez, Arnold Blanch and Doris Lee, Maud and Miska Petersham, Howard Mandel and Julio De Diego. Two of the horses are now on view on the porch of the Woodstock Guild of Craftsmen.

The merry-go-round horses are the result of an idea last fall by Lewis Wilson, Anita Stallforth and Mrs. Herman Oxhandler. Technical difficulties prevented the library from acquiring its own merry-go-round, but William Spanhake had already agreed to carve the carnival animals. Consequently it was decided that the unusual horses would be auctioned at this year's fair.

Spanhake, owner of a saw mill in Wittenberg, has been carving merry-go-round horses in his spare moments for many years. He learned the craft as a young man in Hanover, Germany, where his uncle owned a merry-go-round.

In his workshop on the second floor of his home adjoining the Wittenberg mill, Spanhake explained last winter the intricate process of creating a durable and attractive wooden horse. Contrary to their sturdy appearance, merry-go-round horses in the finest tradition are hollow. They are constructed in sections, treated inside with hot linseed oil to prevent their rotting or splitting. After they are carved, even to lips and teeth, eyes are made, the sections are securely joined together and finally the bright coats of paint are applied. The result is a strong, yet lightweight animal with a typically carnival prance.

Spanhake prefers to make his own designs and carves them from poplar or basswood, which he says is native wood "grown right here."

LaMonte V. Simpkins will serve as auctioneer of the horses and will be assisted in the ring by members of the Woodstock Riding Club.

Another new feature at the fair this year will be the merchants and craftsmen table, where donations of fine merchandise contributed by these townspeople will be assembled, rather than distributed throughout the other tables. Mrs. Hans J. Cohn and Mrs. Benjamin Webster are co-chairmen of the merchants and craftsmen table, and are being assisted by Mrs. Carl Schroeder, Mrs. Herman Fischer and Mrs. Benjamin Theeman.

Mrs. L. B. Stowell, chairman of the sandwich and iced tea table, has requested that all contributions of sandwiches be brought to the table before noon on the day of the fair. The table will be located on the east side of the library.

Miss Therese Kessel, chairman of the apron table, reports that she expects to have close to a hundred aprons ready by fair day, ranging from the most practical, to the latest in sequin and velvet trimmed party aprons.

The Rotron Manufacturing Company has been lending valuable assistance to fair workers in both typing and reproductions of the map of the grounds, as an aid to the committee setting up the fair.

PLEASED GUESTS WHO STAY TOO LONG

A reader asks for my help on the following problem: "Several times in the past when I have given large cocktail parties (the invitations reading from 5 to 7 o'clock), many of the guests stayed on and on and were there long past 7 o'clock. I was not prepared to ask them to stay to dinner and as a result my husband and I never had our dinner until long past 9 o'clock. When guests make no attempt to leave, must we invite them to dinner, or just how can we get them to go when the party is over?"

You do not invite them to dinner, you cannot suggest they leave, so the only solution left is for you and your husband to go one by one into the dining room or kitchen, and eat (as quickly as possible) enough dinner to sustain you.

Sympathy Goes to Children Dear Mrs. Post: A friend of mine has been separated from her husband for several years, although they did see each other occasionally because of the children. Her husband died suddenly this past week and I am at a loss to know what to do under the circumstances. Would it be proper to send her a message of sympathy or some flowers, or would it be best to do nothing.

Answer: If the children are at least half grown, you would write to the child you know best and express your sympathy for them, but you would certainly say nothing to the wife.

First Introduction—"Mrs. John"

Dear Mrs. Post: Is it wrong to introduce oneself to a new neighbor by saying, "I am Mrs. John Smith"—or is it a must to say, "I am Mary Smith"? Personally, I prefer to go slowly with new neighbors, and use first names only after a friendship has developed.

Answer: You are quite right in saying "I am Mrs. John Smith, who lives in the house with the green roof." Only a young girl would say "I'm Mary Smith."

What reply should one make when introduced to a group of people? Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail. Her leaflet E-17, "Introductions," describes how to introduce friends and how to reply. To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin to Dept. EP, c/o The Kingston Daily Freeman, P. O. The Mature Parent

What Milton Meant by 'Childhood Shows the Man'

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

Next to my table in a restaurant the other day sat a young mother with two small sons. The older one had chosen strawberry ice cream; the younger chocolate.

They were dveling happily into it when their mother took a spoonful from the younger boy's plate. After tasting it, she leaned toward him, smiling and said, "M—mmm, isn't that good?" She did not taste or comment upon the older boy's choice.

Almost at once, he began to attack his choice. Wriggling anxiously on his chair, he announced that his ice cream tasted "funny."

Rebuked for wriggling, he pushed it away. Rebuked again, his anxiety became anger. Making a sudden lunge at his brother's plate with his spoon, he knocked his own into his lap.

As the two children, crying and embittered, were herded to the street, the waitress said to me, "A jealous kid like that needs a good licking."

I thought: "He has been licked. He can't choose. He's been beaten by denials of the goodness of his choices."

"Childhood shows the man," wrote John Milton. What is it to childhood to be able to stand by the choice of ice cream, the color of modeling clay, the birthday card for Grandma?

It is the child moving out as an individual—the person who is unique and different from any other person in the world.

"Rivalry is fear that when Mother denies us, we cannot create for ourselves," psychoanalyst Erich Fromm said in a lecture last winter.

He had been speaking of our fear of creating for ourselves, of our deep longing to surrender the heavy burden of deciding for ourselves; of our secret yearnings back to the passive acceptance we knew as infants who drew their strength from Mother and left all choices to her.

"To be born as an individual, the knowledge that all good is centered in us is essential," he said.

If we do not support a child's power to choose well, we are encouraging him to see all goodness centered in Mother. Because we refuse to find his choice of ice cream good, his choice becomes suspect and bad.

Like the child in the restaurant, he will deny himself as an individual as we have denied his individuality. Then, frightened by this denial, he will turn on his brother with what looks like "jealousy" to near-sighted people.

To give a child real birth is not the work of our body, but of our power to love.

UP Rejects Request To Pay Script Writer

New York, July 27 (AP)—The United Press Associations yesterday rejected a request of the American Newspaper Guild, CIO, that Theodore S. Polubbaum, Boston television script writer fired last year, be reinstated and reimbursed for lost pay.

Polubbaum was discharged in April last year, one day after he appeared before the House Committee on Un-American Activities and refused to say whether he ever had been a Communist.

Previous witnesses had testified he was a member of the Communist party's youth movement while a student at Yale University.

The Guild protested the firing and the case went to arbitration. An arbitrator ruled that a news service is entitled to discharge an employee if he takes a determined stand on a highly controversial question that the news service customers feel he is biased.

The arbitrator held, however, that the UP had failed to prove its contention, as stated in a letter to the Guild, that Polubbaum in his committee testimony intentionally created a doubt as to his honesty.

But the arbitrator concurred with the position taken by the UP that the news service's writers must be free of any suspicion of bias if the news service is to retain the confidence of its customers.

Girl's Arrival Awaited
Cleveland, July 27 (AP)—Still seeking a motive for the brutal bludgeoning slaying of a young Bay Village socialite, authorities today awaited the arrival of a California girl they are trying to link with the victim's husband.

An inquest into the July 4 death of Miss Marilyn Sheppard, 31-year-old wife of Dr. Samuel Sheppard, 30, prominent osteopath in the swank suburb, ended yesterday. Much of the testimony in the three days of hearings concerned 24-year-old Susan Hayes, a pretty laboratory technician who formerly worked at Dr. Sheppard's Bay Village Hospital.

Siamese Twins Born
Pine Bluff, Ark., July 27 (AP)—Siamese twins were born yesterday to a Negro couple, Virgil and Joyce Johnson. The twins, joined at the chest, face to face, were born at home and later taken to Davis Hospital, Dr. C. A. Flowers said the babies apparently are doing all right. He added it is too early to determine if an attempt will be made to separate the twins.

coat, as you'll be seeing it around this fall, has a refreshing newness about it. Knowing that women love this coat and want to go on wearing it, top designers have kept it in their collections but redesigned it.

This fall, the voluminous coat is cut with very low, wide huge pockets, placed low at either side. Some designers like the tiny half belt for this coat and use it at each side, placed fairly low.

All this is a decided change from the old tent coat with its high, rounded collar. The very deep cuffs of the old design have been replaced by narrower cuffs, whether the sleeve is slim or wide.

Where the full coat, in former years, usually had a one or two-button closing the 1954 coat may be double-breasted or it may have no button closing at all. Fullness used to be almost circular; this year it's concentrated at the sides and back, leaving the front smooth.

It's cut in every coating fabric from elegant broadcloths and velvets for evening to cashmere blends, tweeds and the very shaggy surfaces for daytime wear.

Hercules exploded with six runs in the seventh inning to blast the Recreations, 12-3, in last night's Rec League opener under the Dietz Stadium mazzas.

The Kingston nine meets the Veterans of Foreign Wars in tonight's secondary opener at 8:45 o'clock.

Surprise of the game was the emergence of Big Bob Shelightner, veteran Kingston High School catcher, as a pitcher for Hercules.

Gives Six Hits

And the big guy did all right, yielding only six hits and striking out six men to gain the decision over Bruce Bechtold and Joe Gardner. Bechtold fanned seven.

Bechtold and Gardner limited the Powdermen to only five hits but a horrendous total of 10 Recreation miscues turned the game into a rout. It was 6-3 at the end of six before the Rec defense collapsed like a sieve in the final frame.

Shelightner cracked a double for Hercules. Joe Pino led the Recs with a single and double.

Subway Grill Shatters Lincolns' Eleven-Game Winning Streak, 9-1

Frances Fede extended his personal hitting streak to 15 straight games as Subway Grill shattered Lincoln Park Inn's 11-game winning streak, 9 to 1, in yesterday's City Softball League feature.

Fede continued his skunk with emphasis, cracking a pair of doubles and a single in four trips. Veteran Joe Amato was equally adamant, checking the Lincoln powerhouse on six scattered safeties.

In other games, Chez Emile crushed Cedar Rest, 14 to 1, behind the 2-hit pitching of Ben Freer; Dave Brandon pitched the Destroyer A.C. to a 10-4 win over Electrol and Rapp's Express decided Perry's Rest, 7 to 4, behind Jack Kozlowski.

In a makeup game, Rapp's trimmed Gene's Bar and Grill, 11 to 4, on Tex Brown's seven-hitter.

Four Home Runs

Four homers were hit yesterday. Bob Gill, who went "4 for 5" hit one for Chez Emile. Others to connect were Van Wagenen of Cedar Rest, Johnny Armstrong of the Destroyers and Frank Tiano of Rapp's.

Gill hit for the cycle for Chez Emile with a single, double and triple. George Glaser rammed two doubles and a single.

Bob Schatzel drilled two singles and a double for Subway Grill. Billy Anderson of Destroyers and B. Krempfer of Electrol matched that output. Angelo Corrado was "3 for 3," all singles for Electrol.

Tony Musto whacked a pair of doubles for Perry's Rest, while John Alecca came up with one of the top performances of the day—two singles and two doubles in five trips for Rapp's.

Frank Tiano added two singles to his homer and John Peck drilled a double and two singles. Dave Nagele hit three singles in three trips for Gene's Bar and Grill.

Could Take Three, Richards Enthuses For Yank Series

Chicago, July 27 (AP)—The Chicago White Sox dared to hope for three straight victories in a pressure-packed series starting tonight against the New York Yankees—the team that has been smashing Sox hopes all season.

"It wouldn't surprise me if we sweep the series," said Manager Paul Richards as he prepared to send three top pitchers against the New Yorkers.

Virgil Trucks, a 13-game winner who has lost only 5 decisions, was Richards' choice for tonight's opener. The Yanks' Casey Stengel indicated he would counter with Harry Byrd, who has won 6 of 11.

Trucks was to be followed by Billy Pierce and Sandy Consuegra. Byrd will be followed by Ed Lopat and either Allie Reynolds or Whitey Ford.

Shoved Sox Down
It was the Yanks who were responsible for shoving the Sox back down the ladder as they were reaching for the top in New York just last week.

The Yanks took three out of four in that series—something they've been accustomed to in past entanglements with the Comiskeyes. They now hold 11 wins over the Sox against only 5 losses this year.

That means they're mainly responsible for the White Sox being in third place, 6 games off the pace of the leading Cleveland Indians and 4½ back of the Yanks, instead of at or near the peak.

The White Sox hold an edge over all other American League rivals, including a 9 to 7 bulge over the Indians.

Richards based his hopes of a series sweep on what he considers superior Sox pitching.

"I believe we have shown that we have the talent to outpitch the Yankees," he declared. "Whitey Ford is the best they have and he won't be able to work unless Casey Stengel calls on him with three days' rest."

Ertel-Fitzgerald Member-Member Tourney Winners

Fire Best Ball 61 At Twaalfskill

Fred Ertel and Walton Fitzgerald fired a best-ball 61 to capture the weekend Member-Member tournament at Twaalfskill.

Partners were determined by a draw and the teams received three quarters of their combined handicaps.

Lou Smith and Gus Brinnier finished second, a stroke behind the leaders. The handicaps enabled Ertel and Fitzgerald to negotiate the front nine in a sparkling best-ball 30 with "birdies" on the first, third, fourth, fifth and ninth holes. They were back in 31 with an eagle-2 on the fourth hole.

Gene Berardi and Bob Herzog copped third place with a 65. Tied at 66 were Alvin Becker, B. Shufeldt, Joe Garland-Charlie Vogel, Harold F. King-Jimmy Turk.

Other low balls included Ed Remmert-Jack Garon 67; Clary Buddenhagen - Dick Overbagh, Dr. Michael Diadovo-Leo Yonnetti, Jake Tremper-William Fuller, Gene Jordan-Dr. Elbert MacFadden and Robert Russell-Quinn, with 68; Charley Gaffney-Ken Wood, 69.

George Schneider won Saturday's sweepstakes with a net 75 on 80 gross and 5 handicap. Leafy Le Fevre shot 86-14-72. Bernard A. Culloton, 82-12-70. Adrian Kaplan, 84-14-70; Ken Wood, 88-21-77.

Costa Defeats Vic Towel

New York, July 27 (AP)—Vic Towel looks like you would expect an ex-champion to look at 26 and young Carmelo Costa of Brooklyn has all the earmarks of a real comer.

Towel at 133 pounds was 15 over the weight he held when he lost his world bantam crown to Jimmy Carruthers in '52. He was slow in contrast to the clever 20-year-old hit and run artist who is unbeaten in 25 pro fights and a fast rising featherweight. Costa weighed 129.

But Towel showed the willing style of a mauler despite his loss to Costa on a unanimous decision in a 10-rounder at Brooklyn's Eastern Parkway last night. It was Towel's first fight out of his native South Africa.

Away from the ring since December, Towel was rusty. If he hadn't twisted his right ankle (he claimed Referee Petey Skole stepped on it) he might have come on to make it a close finish.

As it was, Judge Joe Agnello had it 8-2, Referee Scalzo 6-3-1 and Judge Artie Schwartz 5-4-1, all for Costa. The AP card was 7-2-1 for the kid from Brooklyn who has 22 victories and three draws in his brief career. The crowd of 850 paying $1,210 agreed with the verdict.

Paul Andrews of Buffalo, agreed past Canadian Yvon Durelle for a knockout in 1:06 of the fifth round last night at St. Nicholas Arena, finishing the bout with a right to the head. The Canadian was never in it, losing every round on the cards of Judges Joe Eppy and Americo Schiavone and referee Abe Simon.

Andrews weighed 175½, Durelle 166½ for the televised bout witnessed by a crowd of 1,500. No receipts were announced.

Harbert-Burkemo Vie for PGA Title

St. Paul, Minn., July 27 (AP)—Chick Harbert and Wally Burkemo, two golfers who thrive on the kind of competition where you face the other fellow and try to beat him down, met today in the final match of the PGA championship.

It was the second man-to-man clash between these two, who live and work scarcely ten miles apart in suburban Detroit, and the third PGA final for each. That should be enough to prove their qualifications for match play, a kind of rugged competition the top pros seldom encounter except in the PGA tournament.

In yesterday's gruelling 36-holes semi-finals, Burkemo, the defending champion, almost crushed Cary Middlecoff with one brief string of birdie-shooting, let him get away and then came back to win on the 37th.

Harbert, twice runner-up but never a winner in this tournament, had to go clear to the 36th green to down Tommy Bolt, 1-up.

Burkemo and Harbert clashed in the second round of the 1951 PGA at Oakmont and the blonde, bright blue-eyed Burkemo won on the 19th hole. That was when Wally, playing in his first championship, went all the way to the final before he took a 7 and 6 drubbing from Sam Snead.

What's the Topic?

National League president Warren Giles is in the middle as Horace Stoneham, right, president of the league leading New York Giants, and Walter O'Malley, president of the second place Brooklyn Dodgers, indulge in close conversation. All were attending major league joint meeting in New York city (July 26). (AP Wirephoto).

Mile Runners and Their Pacemaker

"I made them what they are today, I hope they're satisfied," says Chris Chataway, center, as Roger Bannister of England and John Landy of Australia meet at Empire Village, Vancouver, B. C. Both Roger, left, and John, right, have broken the four-minute mile in races where Chataway set the pace. They are in Vancouver to take part in the British Empire Games starting July 31. Greenberg's Inter-League Plan Scrapped by Majors

New York, July 27 (AP)—The major leagues have dropped Hank Greenberg's idea of an inter-league schedule, at least for 1955, and have agreed on a new rule to ban signing of college baseball players who have started their second academic year.

Milwaukee gets the 1955 All-Star game, at a date to be determined later, and the problems of Caribbean winter baseball are to be solved at a final conference today between the Latin delegates and Commissioner Ford Frick.

The Caribbean leagues agreed to end their seasons and playoffs by Feb. 15 in return for permission to use no more than five players from each major league team. At least two of these will be rookies who have appeared in less than 45 big league games.

All is set except the actual final agreement between Frick and the delegates. Player requests to deal directly with the Caribbean teams were rejected.

Greenberg's idea of inter-league games probably will come up again and again. The Cleveland general manager expected defeat but said, "You have to bring these things up for several years before you get them through."

Frick said the proposal was withdrawn by Greenberg at the joint meeting after being discussed at each separate league meeting.

The college rule represents a victory for Everett (Eppie) Barnes, Colgate athletic director, who fought for many years to get some protection for college players. The final agreement will be drawn up by Commissioner Frick, Frank Lane, Chicago White Sox general manager, Jimmy Gallagher, Chicago Cubs general manager, and a committee from the College Coaches' Association.

In general, the new rule finds professional baseball agreeing to refrain from negotiating with or signing a college student who has commenced his second academic year. There are a few exceptions dealing with circumstances under which a player might flunk out or meet financial hardships. The collegian could be signed when his original class graduates.

is Hobart Armstrong, the Dodgers' jack-of-all-trades, who will pitch and play in the outfield.

Other Dodger selections are Garry Barnes, John Dunn, Ronald Pratt and Kenneth Sickler. Representing the Electrol club will be Michael Amato, Paul Gardner, Jay Neer and Joseph Uhl.

Lefty Joe Clark and Mike Sangaline represent the Lions, while Charlie Boice and Mike Carpio carry the Moose Lodge banner.

Henry "Sonny" Barnes will manage the American All Stars, with Tom Heneberry serving as assistant manager.

Association president, William R. Scully, director of the tournament, has appointed Jake Chichelsky official scorer for the tournament.

The umpires will be Jim Gilfeather, Ray Mayone, Bob Funcheon and Bud Zoller.

The tournament opens Thursday with last year's finalists, Esopus Legion League All Stars meeting Highland.

Yesterday's Stars
By The Associated Press
Pitching—Carl Erskine, Brooklyn Dodgers, gave up only five hits and an unearned run as the Dodger sliced the New York Giants' lead to three games with a 9-1 victory.

Batting—Eddie Mathews, Milwaukee Braves, drove in two runs with two singles as the Braves defeated the Pittsburgh Pirates 3-1.

SPORTS

By Charles J. Tiano
Sports Editor

Area baseball fans who have virtually ignored the Little League this season get a chance to make amends this week. The District 4 tournament opens Thursday at the 156th FA diamond and runs for nine days. If you haven't attended a Little League game this season, this is the week to do it. The small fry will be holding forth for nine games.

Flotsam and Jetsam:

Yankees lost ground to the Indians in their thrilling series but proved they still can win the "big one." Had the Dodgers been able to check the Giants in at least one game of their recent two series, they would be in first place today. The American League's 1954 pennant chase figures to be contested until the final week. This year's schedule would seem to favor the Yankees, who play their last six games at home against the Senators and Athletics, while the Indians finish on the road. It was the VFW and not Rotary that pulled off a triple play in their recent meeting won 11-1 by the Vets. John Van Gonsic of Kingston won first place in the 20-21 yards handicap division with a 93 score in the Empire State trapshoot at Hopewell Junction. Walt Ostrom of Orangeburg won the state Class A title with a perfect score of 100 hits in 100 tries. Bill Weatherwax, son of H. Law Weatherwax, the Red Hook golfer who was Eastern Intercollegiate champion at Yale, recently bagged the second hole-in-one of his career.

Signs of the Times:

Pointing out "increased labor costs, increased price of pins, bowling supplies, gas and electric, water taxes, insurance and other overhead expenses," the management of the Dutchess Recreation bowling alleys has hiked the price for topping pins from 40 cents to 45 cents a game. League schedules must run a minimum of 32 weeks. No announcement on this subject has been forthcoming from either Ferraro's Bowl-drome or the Central Recreation. Surprise of the Catskill Mountain Golf League is the poor showing of the Catskill club. The Giants continue to pick up Dutchess county baseball stars. Latest to sign is Bobby Reed, Millbrook Memorial pitching ace who has been assigned to the Ocean club of the Class D Pony League. Reed was a superlative pitcher for Millbrook this season. He won nine straight games, pitched 56 1/3 innings, permitting only one earned run and fanning the remarkable total of 123 batters. Reed is also a good hitter as his .477 batting average attests.

Of Men and Mice:

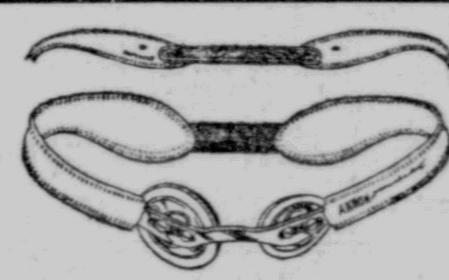

Dr. John A. Olivet's trotter, Atwell Hanover, makes his Saratoga Raceway debut this week. Armand Happel, former manager at the Russo Bowlatorium, will manage the Mardi-Bob lanes, formerly Arlington Lanes, purchased last week by a group headed by Robert Hoe Jr. of Poughkeepsie. The 8th annual swimming meet sponsored by the Hudson Rotary and sanctioned by the Adirondack AAU will be held Sunday, Aug. 1, at Okauch Lake, near Hudson. Lou Piorro is the meet director. Lou Schafle, who directs the annual DeWitt Lake races (Sunday, Aug. 1) has come up with a tremendous "natural" in the big "300" race. Two-time winners, Cameron Page of Port Ewen and Gil Kelder Jr., of Rosendale, who have raced against each other, clash head-on in this year's feature. Our Jack Crawford, of the editorial staff, has returned from Columbia, S. C. with a brand new bride and reports of 30-pound striped bass catches in his old home town. Hans Schmidt meets Yukon Eric at Riverview Field, Poughkeepsie, Aug. 10, in a benefit show for the Poughkeepsie P.A.L., the P.B.A. and the Mentally Handicapped Children. Isn't it about time for the Lawyers to challenge the Cops for a game of beisbol?

Bronx Nine Stops St. Joseph's, 5-2

St. Anselm's of the Bronx defeated St. Joseph's of Kingston, 5-2, Sunday to reach the finals of the Met division of the Archdiocesan CYO baseball tournament.

Each team scored all its runs in one inning. St. Anselm's with five in the fourth and St. Joseph's two in the sixth. Joe Pino was the losing pitcher.

Adams Says Police Pay Raise Needed

New York, July 27 (AP)—Police Commissioner Francis W. H. Adams called on police officials of New York state today to help seek higher pay for police.

"No policeman in the State of New York or in the United States is adequately paid," Adams told the 54th annual conference of the New York State Association of Chiefs of Police.

Adams invited the chiefs to seek pay standards comparable to those paid for similar duties in industry.

In welcoming the approximately 450 delegates to the conference, Adams said adequate salaries were "a top of major importance" here and throughout the state.

Association President Thomas A. Eibler of Rockville Centre told Adams the delegates are very happy to hear you talk on salary increases.

"Throughout the state all police are underpaid," Chief Eibler said.

Dwelling Law

families, rented or leased as temporary or permanent residences, must have two means of egress. It also applies to buildings of two or more stories housing five or more boarders, roomers, or lodgers, with any one family, and it applies to hotels, similar structures, and duplex houses.

Second Stairway Needed

A second means of egress, it was explained, may be an enclosed stairway or an outside fire escape. The latter must be built of new metal. In place of the second means of egress, sprinkler systems may be installed in halls and stairways.

All those who do not comply with the provisions of the law are subject to penalties.

Chief Murphy has been acquainting the new superintendent of buildings with building inspection duties as they were conducted in the fire department for several years. They were scheduled to meet at 10 a. m. today with local oil merchants at Manor Lake on regulations pertaining to oil burners.

Those in doubt as to whether they are obliged to make renovations to comply with the multiple dwelling law, should inquire as to whether they are required to register, it was suggested.

The new building inspector's office is just being established and should be functioning fully within the next few days.

Volunteer Call Issued

Fire Chief Joseph L. Murphy today issued a call for all volunteer firemen of the city to meet with him at Central fire station Thursday at 8 p. m. A discussion pertinent to the firemen will be held, he said, and all are requested to attend. Notices of the meeting have been posted at all fire houses, he said.

Cease-Fire Begins

be a matter of only two to four years before Communism engulfs all of Viet Nam and perhaps Laos and Cambodia as well.

Provides Elections

The cease-fire agreement provides for internationally supervised elections in July, 1956, to unify Viet Nam. The French commander in the north, Gen. Rene Cogeny, said recently he believed South Viet Nam could be defended militarily against the Reds, but he only shrugged when asked about the political prospects. Many French civilian officials here share Cogeny's doubts of the future.

With the cease-fire Cogeny turned his efforts to the mammoth task of moving his thousands of French and Vietnamese troops from their shrunken sector of northern delta to the southern holding left to the Viet Nam government headed by ex-Emperor Bao Dai.

The Vietminh were expected to take control rapidly of the territory being evacuated.

The first phase of the military withdrawal began with the armistice hour. Companies began falling back to their battalion headquarters areas in preparation for a progressive withdrawal to the port of Haiphong.

By Aug. 11 Cogeny must have soldiers and civilians being evacuated from north, west and south of Hanoi massed in a 10-mile zone around the North Indochina capital, once the official seat of French power in the Far East.

Times Imposed

They must be out of the Hanoi area within 80 days from today. The marchers to the sea must be past Hai Duong, midway on the route, 20 days after that. The evacuees have 300 days from today to quit their Haiphong beachhead, destined to be the last French foothold in north Viet Nam.

Not all the Vietnamese troops will be moving south. The French admitted yesterday that a number of the native soldiers were pulling out of their post and disappearing, presumably returning to their homes in hopes the Vietminh would forgive and forget.

Each side had paid a heavy price for the result. Though the French officially put the total of military casualties on both sides at around 320,000, unofficial sources figured them at close to 800,000 dead, wounded or missing.

Of these, 173,000 were French Union and Vietnamese troops. The Vietminh dead and wounded were estimated unofficially at 600,000.

There was no estimate of civilian casualties.

In money and materials, the war cost France and the United States some 10 billion dollars.

The cease-fire will be supervised by a commission made up of India, Poland and Canada, with India as chairman. An official of the Indian Foreign Ministry announced in New Delhi today that his government has invited the other two commission members as well as France, Viet Nam, Laos, Cambodia and the Vietminh to meet at an "early date" in the Indian capital to discuss arrangements for the group.

Special Session

The education board's statement took issue on that point and contended that the board met in special session the day after the shooting, that President Borean cooperated with state police when they searched the students' lockers, and also attended a special assembly in which students were warned not to bring any weapons in the school.

In Kingston, District Attorney Howard C. St. John told The Freeman that it was at his request that troopers searched lockers and questioned some students to find out whether there were other instances of weapons being carried or tinkered with by pupils. The search and questioning disclosed no other weapons or "zip" guns, St. John said.

The investigation by the district attorney's office and state police resulted in a finding that death was accidental. The investigation, however, dealt with any possible criminal involvement and did not concern itself with whether or not there was any laxity on the part of school officials, as that is not the function of the district attorney's office.

Senators Leaders

howers," Morse said, adding that it employed the same terms set forth in the draft of a bill the Atomic Energy Commission (AEC) submitted for the administration.

Limited Charges

Morse's amendment would have limited charges to the government for nuclear materials to a level corresponding to what its own costs would have been. The Federal Power Commission backed such a formula, he said.

Ditching it by a midnight tabling move created a new issue of "whether minority rights are going to be protected in the Senate," Morse stormed.

Sen. Sparkman (D-Ala.) asked if it was not true that Morse had no chance even to explain his amendment before it was tabled.

That was true, Morse replied. Sparkman then asked if the purpose of the amendment, ported today as "fair."

Stanton was employed as a checker by the DeLaval Separator Company in Poughkeepsie.

State police of the Highland station and Coroner McCordle reported after investigation that Stanton was driving north and suddenly collapsed at the steering wheel. The automobile swerved to the west side of the highway, went down a steep embankment, through a cornfield, hit a chicken coop and came to rest against a tree 15 feet behind the home of James Rago, troopers and the coroner said.

Stanton was pronounced dead at the scene at 3:28 p. m. by Dr. Jose Carbagia, who was riding with the St. Francis Hospital ambulance that was summoned. The body was removed to the Francis J. McCordle Funeral Home in Kingston. Funeral arrangements will be announced.

W. T. Stanton Dies

Stanton was employed as a checker by the DeLaval Separator Company in Poughkeepsie.

State police of the Highland station and Coroner McCordle reported after investigation that Stanton was driving north and suddenly collapsed at the steering wheel. The automobile swerved to the west side of the highway, went down a steep embankment, through a cornfield, hit a chicken coop and came to rest against a tree 15 feet behind the home of James Rago, troopers and the coroner said.

Stanton was pronounced dead at the scene at 3:28 p. m. by Dr. Jose Carbagia, who was riding with the St. Francis Hospital ambulance that was summoned. The body was removed to the Francis J. McCordle Funeral Home in Kingston. Funeral arrangements will be announced.

Highland Board Cites Records of School Graduates

Highland Central School district's board of education has pointed to the good record of its graduates who have gone on to higher learning, in a statement issued as an answer to charges by a board member who resigned July 16 because she was "utterly shamed at the low standards" of the school.

Mrs. Max H. Gruner, Jr., resigned as a member of the school board by a letter in which she wrote, in part, "I have never been proud of our local school and after three years of close association with the policy-making agency, I find myself utterly shamed at the low standards and I no longer wish to be a part of that agency." A copy of the letter was forwarded to the Poughkeepsie Sunday New Yorker, which published it on July 25.

The other four members of the board issued a statement on Monday branding Mrs. Gruner's charges as "unfair" and "biased." Harold Berean is president of the board and other members are Thomas Phillips, David Murphy and Thomas Shay, Jr.

'Fully Accredited'

The board's statement contended that the school is "fully accredited" by the State Education Department and "all our teachers are certified and all have been recommended by Superintendent of Schools Ralph Johnson."

The statement further alleged that Mrs. Gruner, while a member of the board, at no time sought to remove any teacher, "nor has she made any constructive suggestion or effort to improve any department in our school."

The board made note of the fact that 40 per cent of the class of 1954 is going on to institutions of higher learning, and that scholarships awarded members of the class total $24,075. Highland graduates received three of the 10 state regents scholarships awarded in Ulster county, placing first, fourth and ninth, the board statement pointed out. Also, the statement said, no graduate of the past two years has failed in the higher institutions.

In her letter, Mrs. Gruner referred to an accident in the school building on Feb. 19 when Robert Churchill, 17-year-old senior, was shot fatally by a saved-off .22 calibre rifle-pistol. She wrote:

"I look back with deep regret at the tragedy in our school—an accident for which I feel as morally responsible as if I had held the gun—and nothing—not one thing of constructive thinking was done about it."

The education board's statement took issue on that point and contended that the board met in special session the day after the shooting, that President Borean cooperated with state police when they searched the students' lockers, and also attended a special assembly in which students were warned not to bring any weapons in the school.

In Kingston, District Attorney Howard C. St. John told The Freeman that it was at his request that troopers searched lockers and questioned some students to find out whether there were other instances of weapons being carried or tinkered with by pupils. The search and questioning disclosed no other weapons or "zip" guns, St. John said.

The investigation by the district attorney's office and state police resulted in a finding that death was accidental. The investigation, however, dealt with any possible criminal involvement and did not concern itself with whether or not there was any laxity on the part of school officials, as that is not the function of the district attorney's office.

howers," Morse said, adding that it employed the same terms set forth in the draft of a bill the Atomic Energy Commission (AEC) submitted for the administration.

Limited Charges

Morse's amendment would have limited charges to the government for nuclear materials to a level corresponding to what its own costs would have been. The Federal Power Commission backed such a formula, he said.

Ditching it by a midnight tabling move created a new issue of "whether minority rights are going to be protected in the Senate," Morse stormed.

Sen. Sparkman (D-Ala.) asked if it was not true that Morse had no chance even to explain his amendment before it was tabled.

That was true, Morse replied. Sparkman then asked if the purpose of the amendment,

Without some standards, Morse replied, there could be "scandalous windfalls that will make the FHA look like nothing."

He referred to millions of dollars in "windfall" profits made by builders and promoters on government insurance mortgage loans of Ithaca, later intervened to restore peace.

Edward H. Case of Gouverneur, a member of the authority, said last Saturday that "we had difficulties, but they have been ironed out." And Powell the same day supported Case's statement.

Moses could not be reached for comment on Powell's resignation. Burton, when queried, replied "no comment."

Well-informed sources have maintained that the salary dispute was not the main issue but symptomatic of more deep rooted differences. Other members of the body were said to feel that Moses was proceeding in certain matters involving policy without consulting the full authority.

Reliable sources said Moses had declared he would submit his resignation to Dewey if he were not allowed the freedom he thought necessary to get the job done.

tomatoes and cabbage—had been lost. He predicted that late season crops would be damaged badly, too, unless the area gets a three-inch rainfall within the next 10 days.

In eastern Long Island, 85 per cent of the farmers maintain their own irrigation systems, but the farmers say they are not as effective as a warm, soaking rain. The early potato yield has been about 10 per cent below normal.

In Orange county—one of the biggest onion-growing areas in the nation, the rich, black dirt holds moisture well, and a good onion crop is forecast.

The rest of the state—except for some hard hit western counties—can recover if a heavy rain falls soon.

Crosby's Body Found in Woods

The body of a man identified as that of Harry Ogden Crosby, 61, a certified public accountant of Hunter, was found Monday afternoon at Hensonsville by two guests from the Kalethea Lodge who were walking in a wooded area about a half mile from the lodge. Crosby had last been seen alive last March.

Dr. Edwin Mulbury, Greene county coroner, and Trooper Shay of the B.C.I., investigated. Death was due to suicide brought about by melancholy, Coroner Mulbury reported.

The body, badly decomposed, was found by Christos Vroxiou and Theodore David of Farmingdale, N. Y., who were walking in a wooded area Monday about 1 p. m. The fully clothed skeleton with the skull detached was identified from papers on the body. The detached skull was found a short distance from the skeleton, troopers reported.

Over Tree Reported

A portion of the belt which had been removed from the trousers was found looped over a tree branch some seven feet from the ground and the main portion of the belt was looped over the skull. It was decided the skull had been moved from the main portion of the body by animals.

Crosby in his duties as a CPA traveled about the area auditing accounts and for that reason his absence had not been noted in Hunter. He had frequently visited Kingston in his

Milton Company Awarded Prize

Milton Engine Company No. 1 was awarded the prize as the best appearing company in the Ulster County Volunteer Firemen's Association parade on Saturday in New Paltz. It was the only prize awarded.

The parade, with an estimated 1,200 persons in line, was more than an hour late in starting. Several musical units had been engaged for an earlier parade at the Dutchess County firemen's convention at Millbrook, and that parade was delayed by a severe storm.

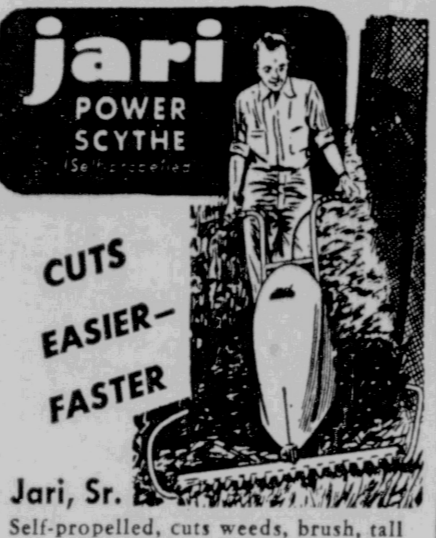

The belated units in their buses were provided with an escort from the west end of the Mid-Hudson Bridge to New Paltz by members of the Ulster County Sheriff's Department.

work and had stayed at various times at a local hotel.

State police at the Catskill station reported that their investigation had disclosed Crosby had been in mental institutions at various times. He was separated from his wife Ruth for 18 years. Prior to making his home in Hunter, Crosby had resided at Hensonsville.

The remains were taken to the Decker Funeral Home at Hensonsville and relatives notified.

Rumors of a widespread roundup of western agents in the Soviet zone as a result of John's defection of entrapment have not been confirmed in allied circles. Security officers said it may be weeks before it is established that any of their contacts has been broken off.

Chancellor Konrad Adenauer announced today that he has ordered a thorough investigation of the West German counter-intelligence organization in the wake of John's disappearance.
